IMPACT REPORT

REKINDLING UNITY AND SERVICE

Jay Winuk and David Paine

A LETTER FROM OUR LEADERS

Like many of you, we still feel the pain and heartache caused by the horrific acts of violence and the losses that thousands of families and our nation suffered resulting from the terrorist attacks of 9/11. But we remember, too, the extraordinary sense of unity, kindness and service that people exhibited everywhere in the aftermath of those attacks. It is this spirit of unity and service that inspired the creation of 9/11 Day more than 20 years ago, and which continues to guide the work we do today.

The 9/11 Day movement continues to grow and thrive in extraordinary ways, making a real impact in communities throughout the United States. Indeed, we are proud to note that this observance is now the largest annual day of charitable engagement in U.S. history. Last year, as in years past, tens of millions of Americans marked the 9/11 anniversary by doing good deeds in countless ways. And that is truly gratifying.

In this report, we are pleased to share a snapshot of what participants in and supporters of 9/11 Day accomplished together, including about our signature “Meal Pack for 9/11 Day” program, our education programming, and our increased efforts to amplify our mission and movement through exciting and productive partnerships and initiatives.

As we look toward the future, we’re confident that our work will be vital in helping to unify our country and continue to inspire service. This year we plan to increase the size, scope and impact of our meal packs; will expand our education-based programming, including our on-campus college initiative; and will broaden our advocacy and outreach to even more people through our wonderful 9/11 Day Ambassadors and other means. And we’ll continue our longer-range planning for the historic milestone 25th anniversary of 9/11 in 2026.

We are so grateful for your support and dedication to our mission. 9/11 Day’s work is made possible thanks to our generous donors, partners, volunteers, and our friends throughout the 9/11 community. Together we will bring our programs to even greater scale and firmly establish the annual 9/11 Day observance as a ubiquitous time of reflection, unity and service in America in the coming years. And, together, we will help to keep our nation’s promise to “Never Forget.”

Thank you,

David and Jay

TURNING A DAY OF TRAGEDY INTO A DAY OF DOING GOOD

Following the September 11, 2001, tragedy, a group of 9/11 families and leaders, headed by our Co-Founders David Paine and Jay Winuk, joined together to create 9/11 Day, the nonprofit that started and annually organizes the September 11 National Day of Service and Remembrance.

Jay's brother, Glenn J. Winuk, an attorney, volunteer firefighter and EMT, was killed in the line of duty at the World Trade Center. Glenn's devotion to community service and his courageous actions were Jay's inspiration to join David in creating 9/11 Day. Together, they worked to transform the anniversary of 9/11 into a ubiquitous day of doing good as a tribute to those killed and injured on 9/11, as well as to honor the many brave rescue and recovery workers, volunteers, and members of our military who rose in service in response to the attacks.

"More than anything else, we wanted something positive and good to come from the tragedy, to help give meaning to the loss of so many innocent people in such a terrible way," David explains.

In 2009, as a result of 9/11 Day's efforts, President Barack Obama joined with the U.S. Congress on a bipartisan basis to formally designate September 11 as an annually observed National Day of Service and Remembrance under federal law. Today, this observance, known widely as "9/11 Day," is the largest day of service in the United States, with tens of millions of people participating annually.

NATIONAL MEAL PACK FOR 9/11 DAY

In 2016, in collaboration with AmeriCorps, 9/11 Day launched our very first Meal Pack for 9/11 Day in New York City.

Our vision was to establish a scalable, high-impact volunteer experience that would allow us to bring “9/11 Day” to cities across the nation. With September being Hunger Action Month, we saw this as an opportunity to use the day of doing good to make a significant difference for some of the millions of American families facing hunger.

In 2023 we hosted meal packs in 18 cities across the country, working with hundreds of the nation’s leading corporations, veterans, first responders, nonprofits, sports leagues, and faith groups, who volunteer to pack millions of healthy, non-perishable meals each year.

We work with local Feeding America-affiliated food banks in each city to distribute meals directly to families in need in those communities.

LEAVING A LEGACY OF DOING GOOD

A critical aspect of our mission is to teach future generations about the 9/11 National Day of Service and Remembrance. We provide free resources to help teachers and parents educate young students about the nature and mission of 9/11 Day, promote the importance of building a more empathetic and civic-engaged nation, and inspire future generations of Americans to observe each 9/11 anniversary through service activities and good deeds.

Over 35% of the US population is under the age of 25 - these young Americans didn't live through or they have little memory of the September 11, 2001, tragedy. Because of this, we have an urgent need to help educate them.

“To me, without reminding our students who weren't born when 9/11 occurred, this historic day will soon be forgotten. I vowed to enrich my students every year about the importance, significance, and sacrifice of that day until I no longer was teaching.”

– Elementary school teacher,
about the importance of 9/11

OUR IMPACT

In 2023, 9/11 Day partnered with Microsoft Flip (formerly FlipGrid) to produce a livestream event for students featuring Jenna Bush Hager, of NBC's "Today Show." The event - which educated students about the history of the 9/11 National Day of Service and Remembrance, and guided them through the process of making their own good deed pledges - reached 2,500 classrooms, and more than 70,000 students. More than 400 students shared their "IWillfor911Day" pledges via our 9/11 Day Flip, with many more sharing their pledges on social media. The event was also featured on Microsoft's digital billboards in Times Square, reaching thousands more.

9/11 Day Lesson Plans were updated and revamped in 2023,, based on feedback from educators and with the help of a professional curriculum development team. Our educator resource page (911day.org/teachers) now features five separate lessons: Good Deeds, Gratitude, Learning about 9/11 Day, Planning a Class Service Project and Planning a Personal Service Project. Each lesson is categorized by grade level, with tailored versions for PreK-2nd grade, grades 3-5, grades 6-8 and grades 9-12. And all are designed to support the CASEL social-emotional learning framework, Common Core literacy standards and C3 framework standards for social studies. All lessons are free and available for immediate download.

COLLEGE MEAL PACK FOR 9/11 DAY

In 2023, we piloted our College Meal Pack for 9/11 Day, providing the tools, resources, and grant funding to 11 colleges to host their own meal packing events. Throughout the month of September, over 3,300 students packed 820,000 meals for those who are at risk of hunger, both on campus and in grantee colleges' local communities, while helping build awareness of the 9/11 National Day of Service. In 2024, we are partnering with AmeriCorps to expand this program with the goal of packing more than 1.5 million meals.

“My colleagues and I would like to thank you all for giving the small but mighty University of New England the amazing opportunity of hosting a Feed the Funnel event! The grant enabled us to bring together our university and greater Portland community in service, recognition of 9/11 and collaboration to address food insecurity in our state. We are humbled, honored, and grateful for your trust in us by awarding UNE the grant and opportunity...”

– Trisha Mason, Director, Office of Student Learning at University of New England

CELEBRITY CHAMPIONS

9/11 Day continues to expand and activate our powerful influencer network of prominent individuals, officials, and celebrities who have joined together to help promote the mission of and participation in 9/11 Day.

"I WILL FOR 9/11 DAY"

Each year, millions of Americans participate in the 9/11 National Day of Service by completing their own self-directed good deeds and acts of service. From donating to their favorite nonprofits to helping a neighbor, this campaign encompasses all good deeds large and small. These acts of kindness are then shared with us on social media through "I Will for 9/11 Day" pledges.

I'm supporting the mission of @911day to make the world a better place. This year on September 11th, I encourage others to see the 9/11 Memorial & Museum. When I went to visit the museum, seeing up close, the fire truck and the melted steel took me back to the tragic day. Every time I visit New York City, I try and go to the waterfalls out side of the museum to pay my respects. I look at all the names and wonder how much grief those families have gone through losing a loved one in the attacks. Honor the courage and sacrifice for those who responded on that tragic day.
